Why should you consider PACT?

Each PACT module contains a series of tasks and Patient challenges (PATCH). The tasks are based on real life in the ICU and reflect the day-to-day work of acute and intensive care practitioners.

The PATCH contains a clinical scenario (involving one or more patients) in which the reader/trainee is asked to interpret the nature of the problems and make management decisions.

PACT modules reflect a modern way of learning where the reader/trainee is active and reflective and the trainer can manage the learning process.

PACT modules provide an overview and guide the reader/trainee as to where to find relevant and supplementary information in textbooks, journals or on the web.

In order to make PACT an interactive experience - reflecting an adult mode of learning - a variety of elements are incorporated into each module such as Activities, Thinks, Questions and Answers – Notes, Anecdotes, Caution, References,...

There are also multiple choice questions at the end of each module in order to test what has been learned.

Experience a unique, flexible, interactive web learning tool to improve your practice in intensive care medicine.
