

SATELLITE SYMPOSIUM

Quantum Leap in Critical Care: Reducing Length of Stay with Nutrition Management and Robotic-Assisted Technology

24 October

15:30 – 16:30 CET

Room 242AB, Level 2

Chair

15:30 – 15:35

Prof. Massimo Antonelli, Dept. of Anesthesiology and Intensive Care Medicine | Catholic University of Rome A. Gemelli University Hospital | ESICM former President

15:35 – 15:45

Obstacles to enteral feeding

Prof. Elisabeth De Waele, Head of Clinical Nutrition Intensivist | Professor VRIJE University Brussels | Executive Board Member ESPEN

15:45 – 15:55

How nutrition can improve outcome in the ICU?

Prof. Paul Wischmeyer, Professor of Anesthesiology and Surgery with Tenure | Director-Nutrition and TPN Service | Associate Vice-Chair for Clinical Research in Anesthesiology | Duke University School of Medicine

15:55 – 16:15

Improving nutrition management and outcome using a new technology

Prof. Pierre Singer, Editor in Chief, Clinical Nutrition Open Science | Chairman, Israel Society for Clinical Nutrition | Director, Critical Care Medicine and Institute for Nutrition Research at Rabin Medical Center, Beilinson Hospital | ESPEN former Chairman

16:15 – 16:30 | Panel discussion, Q&A and conclusions

Add to google calender

Add to outlook calender

For healthcare professionals only

smART+® Platform

A new comprehensive nutritional therapy practice

ART MEDICAL LTD® 2022