Details on your candidature

I am an Anesthesiology and Reanimation Specialist and recently completed my Critical Care Fellowship at Izmir Tepecik Education and Research Hospital in February 2025. Following this, I have been appointed as an Intensive Care Specialist at Izmir Democracy University Faculty of Medicine. My clinical expertise covers advanced ICU management, mechanical ventilation strategies, CRRT, and bedside ultrasound, with extensive hands-on experience in COVID-19 ICUs, organ transplantation anesthesia, and postgraduate training for residents and ICU nurses. I am actively engaged in research on microcirculation, mechanical ventilation, and the role of ultrasonography in critical care, and have authored several international publications and book chapters. In addition, I serve as a member of the Young Board of the Turkish Society of Intensive Care and the Ultrasound Working Group, reflecting my dedication to education, collaboration, and innovation in critical care. Through the ESICM NEXT membership, I aim to strengthen international networking, contribute to multidisciplinary research projects, and promote the dissemination of best practices in intensive care.
